

How smart homes work

Smart appliances optimise for efficiency reducing unnecessary power use. A household's heater, hot-water cylinder and EV are typically the biggest electricity users.

Home energy management system enables centralised control within a home.

Flexible demand service optimises household electricity supply, keeping costs down.

Energy retailer connects to the grid.

